ACI proudly delivered OHSAS 18001:2007 message to DHL

DHL is the global market leader in international express, overland transport and air freight. It plays a major role in the logistic industry in Hong Kong. ACI is proudly delivered the OHSAS 18001:2007 (the latest version launched this year) message to DHL staff which would allow them to enjoy a safer working environment and take less risk of accidents.

Occupational Health and Safety Assessment Specification (OHSAS) is an international standard enabling organizations to manage both their operational risks and improve their performance. It aims at reducing and preventing incidents and incident related human injuries or ill death.

Participants found the instructor was very friendly and worked with everyone to help them understand the subjects. The course and documentation were well organized. Participants now have a better understanding over the occupation safety and being benefited by several ways, like the reduction of medical claims and insurance costs. The employees are also more willing to commit to their organization as the standard ensures their occupational safety.

It is worthwhile to certify for OHSAS 18001:2007 as it will improve the efficiency of the staff. ACI welcomes all interesting parties in acquiring OHSAS 18001:2007 knowledge or other training courses and services. We hope that our professional management knowledge can successfully assist your company to improve your occupational health and safety management.
